PROGRAM: Consumer Roundtable

As credit unions face challenges with regulatory burdens, we still work on ways to better serve our members and our communities. During this economic shift we look to gain more market share within the financial industry. We invite you to our June meeting for an interactive discussion with consumers (both credit union members and non-credit union members). Along with some of our marketing personnel, consumers will give us more insight to what they look for in their banking needs. Please note that we will allow for audience questions.
